Vanshika Chaudhary

There's no doubt that with your kind of knowledge and calibre, there are umpteen amounts of "letter of excellence" that you would have received.

However, we are attempting to stand out and be different.

Your journey as the developer and technology leader has just started and the level of maturity you have displayed during the Code Innovation Series is simply outstanding. We hope that our paths keep crossing more often from hereon and we can play a little role in shaping your career which is now moving in a right direction.

I am sure you will contribute to the India's growth story with your knowledge and innovativeness.

I take this opportunity on behalf of the entire team to congratulate you for your exemplary performance in the recently concluded Code Innovation Series Hackathon. You stood high, dreamt big and executed your plans with precision.

May you achieve everything you set your sight, and heart into.
